Thought for the Day

"Plenty of people miss their share of happiness. Not because they never found it, but because they didn't stop to enjoy it." - William Feather

Today's Lunch

Chicken Chop Suey, Rice, Fresh Bread, Salad Bar, Fruit and Milk

Tomorrow's Lunch

Mexi Beef Macaroni Casserole, Salad Bar, Fruit and Milk

Word of the Day

Respite Pronunciation: /RES-pit/n 1: a period of temporary delay; especially :
reprieve *2: an interval of rest or relief
"Madeline took a brief respite from the stresses of her work to enjoy a quiet afternoon at the art museum.

Fact of the Day

Death Valley in southern California is the lowest point in the United States at 282 feet below sea level. The highest point in the contiguous 48 states is also in California: Mount Whitney, which is 14,491 feet above sea level.

Did You Know

For the 1994 box office hit Speed, starring Keanu Reeves and Sandra Bullock, 12 buses were used total in the film. Two of the buses were blown up, and a specially rigged one was used for the famous freeway jump.

Bad Predictions

"It would appear we have reached the limits of what it is possible to achieve with computer technology, although one should be careful with such statements; they tend to sound pretty silly in five years." - computer scientist John von Neumann, 1949.

Today In History

45 BC - Julius Caesar defeated the Pompeians at the battle of Munda in Spain. The Pompeians, led by two sons of Pompey the Great, lost over 30,000 men.

Things That Make You Go Hmmm

Wouldn't the greatest mistake you could make in life be to continually fear that you will make one?

Lance Mackey wins 4th consecutive Iditarod
RACHEL D'ORO

Associated Press Writer

NOME, Alaska — Lance Mackey picked up a few rewards on his way to winning an unprecedented fourth consecutive win in the 1,000-mile Iditarod Trail Sled Dog Race.

The 39-year-old musher from Fairbanks stopped to pick up a moose rack along the trail, and, 10 miles from the finish line in Nome Tuesday, he spent five minutes digging up a pair of caribou antlers that he used as a sort of hood ornament on the homestretch.

In between those two finds, Mackey was taking a break in the hills behind the village of Ruby to feed his dogs and enjoy the sunset a bit when he noticed he might get something else out of this trip, too.

"Turned around and realized it was a nice time to conceive a litter of puppies," he said to a room full of fans hanging on to his every word soon after his team coasted up the main street of this old Gold Rush town.

Hundreds of fans bundled up against temperatures near zero to cheer on the plain-spoken cancer survivor, the first musher in the event's 38-year history to win four straight races. He finished the race in eight days, 23 hours and 59 minutes — the second-fastest finish in race history.
